

AI Basics

Artificial Intelligence (AI) refers to systems that can perform tasks requiring human intelligence. Common areas include machine learning, natural language processing, and computer vision. RAG combines retrieval with generation for grounded answers.